AGREED SCHEDULING ORDER

The Court has been advised that the parties have agreed as follows:

This case will proceed to trial on April 22, 2025 as set forth by the Court's October 7, 2024 Order (Doc. No. 222). The government expects the trial to last between two and three weeks; the defense expects the trial to last four weeks. The parties agree that the deadlines set forth herein supersede all deadlines, other than the pretrial conference and the trial date, set forth in the Court's October 7, 2024 Order.

Deadlines

Regarding pretrial motions, other deadlines, and status conferences, the parties agree to the following schedule:

With respect to items relating to any deadline that has already passed, a party may, for good cause shown, seek leave to amend a prior filing or submit a new filing. Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, any response shall be due within fourteen days and any optional reply shall be due within seven days.

Exhibit Review

April 8, 2025	Exhibit review ¹
April 10, 2025	Deadline for joint certification that exhibit review has been completed and statement of any related issues

Motions in Limine and Rule 702 Motions²

March 7, 2025	Deadline for motions in limine and Rule 702 motions addressing issues arising after September 20, 2024
March 28, 2025	Deadline for responses to motions in limine and Rule 702 motions
April 4, 2025	Deadline for any replies to motions in limine and Rule 702 motions

Jencks Material Disclosure

March 4, 2025	Government shall disclose all remaining Jencks material to defendants
----------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------

Witness/Exhibit Disclosure

April 15, 2025	Government and the defense shall disclose their respective witness and exhibit lists ³

¹ The parties will make a good faith effort to have a final set of exhibits by this date. The parties reserve the right to request the introduction into evidence of trial exhibits not made available at the exhibit review, if necessary, because of such situations where the party elects to introduce an exhibit at trial that has been previously provided to the opposing party in discovery but which the party did not contemplate using as an exhibit at trial at the time of the exhibit review, or where the party learns of additional evidence after the exhibit review and intends to introduce that evidence at trial. Each party also reserves its right to object to the introduction of such evidence as appropriate, including (for example) on the grounds that such evidence is unduly prejudicial or should have been produced earlier or is otherwise excludable. The parties will make all reasonable efforts to alert the opposing side of any such objections at the earliest possible time.

² The motions in limine deadline passed on September 20, 2024. The response deadlines in this section apply to new and previously-filed motions, including the defendants' deadlines to respond to the government's motions to admit 404(b) evidence.

³ The defense will make a good faith effort to disclose all witnesses the defendant intends to call in its case-in-chief. But the defense reserves the right to call other witnesses depending upon the government's proof presented during the trial. The government likewise reserves its right to add to its witness list depending upon the proof presented in the defendant's case-in-chief.
